Duran comes back

Four-time world champion boxer Roberto Duran, right, lets a right fly to the chin of former champ Jacques LeBlanc at Casino Magic's "Big Top" Tuesday. Duran was billed as being "The Hands of Stone" and LeBlanc, "The Chin of Steel." Duran won an unanimous 10-round decision in his sixth comeback from retirement. (Echo photo by Michael Reeves).

Casino $$$ roll into city coffers

BY DAVID A. FARRELL

Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre reviewed with councilmen checks totaling $497,390 covering tax fees generated by Casino Magic at a Tuesday night recess meeting.

One check from Casino Magic to the city was for $231,733, representing a service fee for May, and the other two were from the State Tax Commission: one for $239,062.63 for a machine tax and gaming tax for the April reporting period, and the other for $26,595.10 for the gaming tax for the May reporting period.

Casino taxes have allowed Bay St. Louis to dramatically reduce property taxes recently.

Favre said the city is expecting about $2.2 million in tax revenues from gaming operations here. The city's total budget runs about $6 million annually.

In other business, the council:

— Approved various zoning changes approved by the city planning and zoning commission: A variance for construction of a fence at 809 Jackson Boulevard, approval to create two larger lots in a special subdivision on Dan M. Russell Drive, and reclassified From R-3 multi-family residential to C-2 neighborhood commercial property at 443 Main Street.

— Approved purchase of eight tags costing $96 for city vehicles.

— Approved use of the Bay bridge for the 5K and 1-mile run-walk competition to be held Saturday at 6 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. in conjunction with the Crab Fest.

Councilman Charles Scianna voted against approving the Crash claims one

BY LIZ HAAS

Michael Aupied, 29, of Bay St. Louis was pronounced dead after an accident that left his car wrapped around a tree off Casino Magic Drive Tuesday at 9:56 p.m.

"He was heading south on Casino Magic Drive when he ran off the road to the right, lost control, swerved to the left and hit a tree," reported Master Sergeant David Kenny of the Highway Patrol.

He said, "The passenger side of the car rotated clockwise around the tree and came to a final rest facing southeast."

There were no passengers or other cars involved in the accident, reported Kenny.

He said there was one witness to the accident.

Mobile Medic and Bay Police officers responded to the accident.

"The cause of the accident will be released pending the final report," said Kenny.

Bay Police turned the case over to the Highway Patrol. Kenny is in charge of the investigation.

The Metairie, La., native is survived by his long-time companion, Mary Ann Thornton, and a son, Michael Thomas Aupied Jr. of Bay St. Louis. An obituary appears on Page 2A.

POA slate short of quorum

BY LIZ HAAS

A new slate of candidates for the Diamondhead Property Owners Association board of directors fell 332 votes short of a quorum in Monday's election according to Charlie Bannister, candidate for president.

The ballot was to remove present officers of the POA board and elect the new slate of BEGIN (Better Get Involved Now) candidates to the board.

Bannister said they have 30 days by law to get a quorum and have recessed the meeting to reconvene on July 12 at the Community Center from 2 to 6 p.m.

"With this good of a turnout, we're not about to give up," said Bannister.

There were a total of 1,402 ballots cast.

Results were:

—1,296 for removing the present board;

—76 against removing the present board;

—1,299 for electing the new slate;

—71 against electing the new slate.

Votes included 618 ballots, 741 proxies and 43 affidavit ballots.

Bannister said, "We're in the process of sending out proxies to everyone who did not vote on Monday and are going after more than 332 to ensure we have a solid quorum."

"We want everyone to vote. If they feel strongly on their side, I think they should vote," he said.

President of the POA board Peter Casano said the opposing slate claims 340 signatures on the membership registration book are counted into the quorum.

"That's not right. They are having an election with one vote per property owner, but they

Fourth of July closings

In celebration of the Fourth of July, all county and city offices will be closed Monday, July 5.

All local banks and the Bay St. Louis and Waveland Post Offices will be closed Monday.

Waste Management will continue regular pick-up schedules.

Garbage in the City of Waveland will not be picked up Monday. Monday's route will be picked up Tuesday and Tuesday's will be picked up Wednesday. There will be no trash pickup on Wednesday, July 7.

The Hancock School District Office will be closed

Monday, July 5, as will The Sea Coast Echo office.

DRIVE SAFELY

Highway Patrol Master Sergeant David Kenny warns, "We will have enforcement to the fullest. We have federally mandated funds that have given us 14 extra units or 112 man hours available."

He reported the patrol will use helicopters, marked and unmarked vehicles, mobile homes with radars, chase cars and motorcycles.

"DUI's will not be tolerated under any circumstances."

"Pick a designated driver and be careful," said Kenny.

ASRM supporters hope to save rocket program in Senate

BY DAVID A. FARRELL

The U.S. House on Tuesday voted to kill the $3.25 billion Advanced Solid Rocket Motor (ASRM) program, putting in jeopardy thousands of jobs at Stennis Space Center and a plant in Iuka.

However, a spokesman for U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor's office said the program is not dead since it must now go to the U.S. Senate and to a Senate-House conference committee that would iron out differences in the House and Senate appropriations bill.

"Just because it was killed in the House does not mean it's dead," said Shawn Bullard, a spokesman for Taylor. "It now is in the Senate's court."

Tuesday's action came after a House voice vote late Monday, placing the House on record as wanting to terminate the program. The voice vote came on an amendment by Rep. Scott Klug, R-Wis.

"Let me urge my colleagues again tonight, on both the Republican and Democratic sides, for an overwhelming vote to kill the ASRM project so there is no chance whatsoever that in the conference committee, it, like Dracula, will rise again," Klug told House members.

The Senate could restore the funding, setting the stage for negotiations in the conference committee, but observers said it will be difficult.

Appropriations Subcommittee Chairman Rep. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, and Science, Space and Technology Committee Chairman Rep. George Brown, D-Calif., said Klug's amendment was not needed.

Production of the rocket was scheduled to begin in about six months at the Iuka plant. The rocket would be built at Iuka and tested at Stennis. Construction of the testing facilities at Stennis continues, said Bullard.

Payroll at Iuka is projected to be about $40 million annually when full production begins. The facility would employ about 1,000 workers.

About $1.55 billion has been committed to the project since its beginning in the mid-1980s.

The program was designed to build a new rocket that would restore full power to the space shuttle rockets that was lost when the rockets were redesigned after the Space Shuttle Challenger accident that killed six astronauts.

The appropriations bill voted on in the House included approximately $15 billion in 1994 fiscal year funding for NASA. Included in the measure was $280.4 million for ASRM research and deve-

Part of Hwy. 604 closed to traffic

A small section of Hwy. 604, approximately one mile north of Hwy. 90 near Pearlinton, will be closed to traffic Monday and Tuesday, according to Southern District Transportation Commissioner Ronnie Shows.

The closure is necessary to replace a timber box culvert with concrete arch pipe, said District Maintenance Engineer Rickey Lee of Hattiesburg.

"Our maintenance employees will complete this work in two days in an effort to cause as little inconvenience as possible to the public," Lee said.

The bridge repair work is being done in conjunction with an upcoming asphalt overlay which is scheduled to begin in one month on Hwy. 604.

"We appreciate the cooperation of residents and other drivers in this area as we try to provide safe, efficient maintenance of this highway," said Shows.

are counting these spouses and others for their quorum," he said.

Casano said "They appear to be about 700 short of what they perceive to be a quorum."

He said the present board does not recognize their election.

Casano said, "As far as we're concerned, their meeting is over. We know they didn't adjourn their meeting, and there cannot be a legal meeting anyway without having a quorum."

Casano said the slate of candidates recessed the meeting as an afterthought the next day, not on the day of the election.

Over five percent of the membership signed a petition over two months ago requesting the board set a recall election.

The board established a June 14 special meeting to determine if a special election was needed.

The new slate of candidates claimed the board did not set the meeting within 30 days, as required under Mississippi law, so they established their own election that was held Monday.

Both sides claim each meeting is invalid.

Membership in the POA goes by lots. There are approximately 8,000 lots in Diamondhead, of which almost 2,000 lots are owned by the developer, Purcell.

Members had one vote, regardless of the number of lots they owned, in the June 28 election. In the July 14 meeting, a person has as many votes as lots they own.

POA board president Peter Casano said he has asked Purcell not to vote.

"I don't think it is necessary," he said, "But Purcell does have a large interest here and are extremely concerned with the welfare of Diamondhead."

Casano said the present board's election is on July 14 at 10 a.m.

"We have received over 700 proxies for our election, and they are 95 percent in favor of the present board," he said.

The polls will close at 9 a.m. July 14. From 9 to 10 a.m., the votes will be counted and the meeting will be called to order at 10 a.m., with the results being announced.

"A majority of a quorum is required for the recall election to go into effect," said Casano.

"If we do need to call for a new election, we'll set a new meeting time and open the nominations from the entire community," he said.

Casano said, "If all things went forward with what the slated board thinks is right, I presume they would present their results to the board and demand the seats be turned over to them and when we decline—they'll go to court."

"But if neither one of us gets a quorum, the question is moot and there's nothing to take to court," he said.

"We are encouraging people to vote so we can get a quorum and put this thing to rest once and for all because the community is somewhat at a standstill right now," said Casano.

The next election is scheduled for June 1994.

"There is no reason we can't get along with different opinions," he said. "It may be good, in a sense, that people can openly air their differences."

Farrell joins Echo staff

The Sea Coast Echo announces a new addition to its news reporting staff, David A. Farrell.

The Picayune native graduated from Mississippi College in Clinton, Miss., and earned a master's degree in journalism from Louisiana State University in 1976.

He has been managing editor

David Farrell

of The Picayune Item, editor of The Poplarville Democrat and has worked as a reporter for The Jackson Daily News and The Morning Advocate in Baton Rouge.

Farrell was an advertising representative at The Bogalusa Daily News in Louisiana and has been a correspondent for The Sun Herald and The Times-Picayune.

Publisher Ellis Cuevas said, "I am happy to have David as a member of the staff. He is a veteran newspaper man and his many years of experience will be an asset to our news department."

Farrell was also owner of the Commercial Printing Company, a print shop, in Picayune.

He is a Vietnam veteran, serving in the 25th Infantry Division of the Army. He is the divorced father of three children, Andy, 22; Anne, 19; and John David, 14.

"All the people have been so nice and helpful to me since I started here, and I look forward to meeting everyone," he said.

"I like Bay St. Louis," he said.

"I think it's a neat little town."

Farrell said he plans to move to Bay St. Louis soon.

He replaces three-year Echo reporter Jacqui Cochran who left this month.

Shrimping boundary changed

BY DAVID A. FARRELL

An amendment to a bill passed last legislative session moves a portion of the shrimping boundary line in the Bay from a half-mile off the south side of the CSX railroad bridge to the bridge's center line, said State Representative J.P. Compretta of Bay St. Louis.

The change is effective July 1. The bill does not change the provision applying to the half-mile limit along the beach, within which shrimpers are not allowed to troll.

Compretta said the change in the boundary was sought along the bridge because the line was never adequately marked and shrimpers wondering over the boundary line were being ticketed by enforcement officers.

"At night it was even more difficult for shrimpers to observe the boundary line along the rail bridge," he said.

Compretta said the amendment was inserted in a bill that addressed a number of issues regulating marine resources along the Gulf Coast.

He said the bill, House Bill No. 622, also provided that oyster reefs remain open year round on a rotating basis, and also provided that oysters could remain unrefrigerated up to four hours after harvesting.

The bill also stipulated that citations written to boat owners for not having proper registration will be dismissed if the boat owner presents the proper registration to the court on the trial date.

Compretta said the Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks could have changed the boundary line along the bridge without legislation. However, officials with the Bureau of Marine Resources, a division of the department, objected to the changes.

Compretta said he then inserted the language for his amendment into the bill.

He said the change will help clear up the confusion over the boundary.

lopment and $32.6 million for continued construction of production facilities.

Tuesday's action was, however, only the first round in the battle over ASRM, which has become an annual fight for supporters of the project. The House has rejected it two years in a row.

U.S. Sen. Trent Lott said that doesn't help but vowed to work to save the project. "We're going to work on it. ASRM is an important part of the future of NASA," Lott said in a press conference.

Added Lott, "If we can get it into conference, I feel it will be OK. Right now I think we are still going to get it. The game is a long way from over."

Said U.S. Senator Thad Cochran, "When the matter comes before the Senate, we will work as hard as we can to get the approval for funding to continue the work and complete the project."

Cochran is a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, which is expected to discuss the measure in about a month.

Said Steve Burt, a spokesman for U.S. Rep. Jamie Whitten, who represents Iuka, "It all boils down to what happens in the conference committee."

Last year in a conference committee, the project was saved after being killed in the House.

Officials said the Stennis testing facility for the solid rockets is more than 45 percent complete and would add up to 200 new jobs at the test facility.

Stennis spokeswoman Myron Webb said NASA plans to complete the major components of the test stand "to protect the investment already made for future potential use."

Asphalt overlay to begin on 604

Transportation Commissioner Ronnie Shows announced a contract has been awarded for improvements to Hwy. 604 in Hancock County.

W. E. Blain and Sons Inc. of Mount Olive, Miss. was awarded the contract with a low bid of $172,128.

Shows said the project is for an asphalt overlay on five miles of Hwy. 603 between Hwy. 90 and Hwy. 607.

He said the work will be done under traffic, and motorists will encounter lane closures.

Motorists are urged to observe all construction advisory signs while driving through the project.

The contract completion date for the project is 30 working days or Nov. 30, 1993, whichever comes first.

Unemployment continues to decrease in Hancock Co.

Hancock County's unemployment rate decreased in May to 6.5 percent, compared to the state's 6.8 percent rate and the U.S. rate of 6.7 percent, announced the Mississippi Employment Security Commission.

MESC announced a 6.8 percent unemployment rate for Hancock County for the month of April, 6.6 for the state of Mississippi and 6.8 for the U.S.

In neighboring counties rates were: Harrison County rose to 4.9 percent from April to May; Jackson County rose from 6.0 in April to 6.2 May; Pearl River County went from 8.0 to 7.8 percent; and Stone County's rate rose from 8.5 to 9.3 percent.

The civilian labor force in Hancock County rose by 240 persons in May, bringing the total to 14,550, leaving 950 unemployed in May.

Exchange Club to give flags Saturday a.m.

The Exchange Club of Hancock County will give away American flags to youngsters 12 and under on Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon.

This will be at the Waveland locations of K-Mart and Walmart, said president Lisa Rodriguez.

Rodriguez added, "This is a National Exchange Club Project and is called GIVE-A-KID-A-FLAG-TO-WAVE and is to promote patriotism."

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It is crab festival and fair time for Bay St. Louis and area residents.

Both the annual Our Lady of The Gulf Catholic Church Crab Festival and the St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church Fair and Sports Tournaments will be July 2, 3 and 4.

The OLA crab festival will be on the church grounds under the oak trees, Beach Boulevard with ample parking provided.

The grounds will open Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 11 a.m.

Live entertainment will include Nightfall band Friday; Cajun Fiddler band, Piney Woods Cloggers and Joe Matherne & Sunshine Saturday; and on Sunday, Southern Comfort and Keith Hoda & The Country Sounds.

Bill LeBlanc, crab festival chairman, reports there will be 100 select arts and craft booths offering all types of handmade crafts.

Food booths will serve boiled seafood, fried seafood, crab specialties, Cajun, barbecue, Oriental, hamburgers/hot dogs, cotton candy, desserts, cakes, ice cream, snowballs, popcorn and drinks, etc.

There will be a kiddie land, throwing games, crab races, white elephant, face painting, fun run, plant/flowers, t-shirts, caps, aprons, balloons and much more.

At 9 p.m. on Sunday there will be a big fireworks display.

St. Rose's events will start Friday from 11 a.m. until with seafood; Saturday, 9 a.m. men's tennis tourney; Sunday, 9 a.m. tennis tournaments.

Seafood will be available from 11 a.m. until on Friday and from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday at St. Rose.

Live entertainment will include Brothers-In-Law and Rose Room on Saturday; and Travis Productions, Starz band and Bo & Dee on Sunday.

Saturday and Sunday there will be a children's hands-on art and music workshop.

Sounds like there will be a lots of good food, with emphasis on seafood, other foods, entertainment and fun for those of all ages.

I hope to see you at the festival and fair.

Do not forget you are now required to have a saltwater sports fishing license as of today, July 1. This means many of us will be purchasing two fishing licences, one for saltwater and another for freshwater.

The law says saltwater licenses must be used from south of Interstate 10 to the Barrier Boundary.

Residents under 16 years old, 65 or older, or those adjudged disabled under game and fish status of Mississippi, will not be required to purchase the new saltwater sport license. Neither will residents or non-residents fishing on a chartered boat, party boat, lead boat or guide boat.

I am ready to go fishing, all I have to do is find the time.

While on the subject of fishing, this is the weekend for the Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo — July 2, 3 and 4 — and the Rice Pavillion in Gulfport is the headquarters.

This is always a big attraction and draws fishermen from many states.

Prizes are nice for those catching the 'big one' in the salt and freshwater categories.

I wish everyone living in Hancock County could have seen the presentations at the Welcome Center last Saturday given by the Bayou Town Musical Puppet Theatre.

Ron and Cherie Schadler sure did a beautiful job entertaining vacationing youngsters and their parents.

The most important part of the program was the emphasis placed on not littering. Comments I heard from the adults were how impressed they were with Hancock County's anti-litter programs.

On Wednesday, Ron and Cherie presented "Critters Unite," a puppet musical as part of the Hancock County Library System's summer reading program.

This was well attended, and the Bayou Town program was another smash with the youngsters.

I would recommend the Bayou Town Musical Puppet Theatre to adults as something to see. It is an exciting presentation.

Bayou Town is scheduled to perform in all of our elementary schools in early September as part of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's continuing efforts to make our county Litter Free.

The school presentations would be another opportunity for parents to 'take-in' a show. We will give you the performance schedules.

I would personally like to thank Ron and Cherie for their many hours of donated time to our very important Litter Free '93 programs.

By the way, our library system has also many other activities in store for the younger generation as part of the summer program.

To find out about the programs, call the Kiln Library, 255-1724; Waveland Library, 467-9240; or City-County Library, 467-5282.

The lights are scheduled to be turned on tonight on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis starting at 9 p.m.

Mayor Eddie Favre is to start at the foot of the bridge and work westward turning on each section.

I hope to see you along the highway tonight.

I am hoping each and every one of you will have a safe and happy July 4th weekend.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Little league experience was great for kids and fans

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to recognize some real heroes in our community. I am referring to the Waveland Little League program. It is a wonderful program which gives kids a chance to learn, to compete and to be a part of something special. I am especially grateful to the coaches who felt that this was a worthwhile endeavor.

This season my son had an opportunity to learn a great deal about baseball, and more importantly, about sportsmanship from his coaches, Mr. Tyrone Fountain and Mr. Bobby Gavagnie.

These two men spent many hours coaching their team, the Lakeshore Booster Club. There were many practice hours, both at the Waveland field and at the baseball field in Ansley. Even during intense heat and swarms of gnats and mosquitos, these two men never lost sight of their objective, which was to pass along their knowledge and their pure love of baseball.

Trips were made to play against teams in other cities, just for the fun of it, as well as a trip to the batting cages.

Their positive attitudes spoke well of these men. They never yelled at or embarrassed any of the team members. Instead, they pointed out how that mistake could have been avoided. Because of that attitude, the kids seldom made the same mistake twice.

It was a lot of fun for the kids as well as the parents. My family is grateful for the fun evenings sitting at the ball park cheering our team on.

I am also grateful to the sponsors of the teams. Because of their support, a great many kids were able to participate. I can't think of anything more important to do than to keep our kids busy with activities that are positive.

May the Waveland Little League grow better and stronger every year.

Sincerely,
Gerald Richardson

Experts weary of North American Free Trade Agreement

The exciting promises delivered to Americans all over the country is always the same. "If the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) is approved by Congress, all of America will profit, and no sector of our work force will go without being positively affected by the agreement."

As a member of the Anti-NAFTA Congressional Caucus, I believe the only truth is that if the North American Free Trade Agreement is approved by Congress, the U.S. will lose jobs, our environmental, health and safety standards will be sacrificed and the only companies that will profit from the decision will be the multi-national corporations eager to exploit cheap Mexican labor.

In simplistic terms, NAFTA will knock down trade barriers that currently limit trade between Mexico and the United States. You may ask yourself, "Why wouldn't Americans want to open our borders to Mexico?" The reason, the promises are superficial. They don't really exist.

Just last month trade expert John Burton, executive vice president of the American Chamber of Commerce in Mexico, warned that the ill effects NAFTA could have on America's economy.

Burton says if the agreement is approved, some U.S. companies will indeed profit. The companies with the most to gain are the service, franchise and construction industries. The problem is, Burton said, all of that calls for investment capital and consumers with money. "And there is very little money in Mexico," he said.

Burton adds that with nearly 25 percent of the population living on a per-capita income of less than $350 per year, it is anybody's guess how Mexicans are expected to buy large quantities of American goods.

Advocates of the agreement argue that Mexico will be strengthened by America's investment in the region. Unfortunately, I believe any economic growth spurred by U.S. investment would come at the expense of the American industries and workers.

Placing the stronger U.S. economy on a level playing field with a weaker Mexican economy will only benefit Mexico in both the long and short run. The agreement is essentially a jobs program for Mexico because American companies that haven't already done so will move to Mexico because of cheaper labor and operational costs. It is as simple as that.

Last year trade negotiators from the U.S. reached a preliminary trade agreement with Mexico and Canada.

With the setbacks the agreement has faced in recent months, it is most likely NAFTA will not be voted on in the House of Representatives until the end of this year. Should it come up for a vote this year, be assured, that I will oppose it at every opportunity. America just can't afford to lose another plant or worker to Mexico.

Immigration: What to do?

America is a nation of more than 257 million people — people of different origins, races, creeds, religions, talents and convictions. This diversity is a source of our strength, prosperity and proud history. And, that success can be shared by immigrants who have contributed while searching for the American dream.

This spirit will always be a part of our country's promise, and immigration has helped to keep America flourishing. However, we have a growing problem with immigration. The rate at which we allow legal aliens into this country is out of control.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service estimates that 1,090,924 legal aliens came into the United States in 1989, and grew to 1,536,483 (more than half the population of Mississippi) in 1990.

That's too many guests at the supper table. This huge influx places further strains on the jobs, welfare, health care and economy of this country.

The unrestrained problem we have with illegal aliens is even worse. We have unyielding numbers of aliens, using any tactic imaginable, trying to unlawfully cross our borders. The number of undocumented aliens is not known, but the Census Bureau estimated that 3.3 million illegal aliens entered the U.S. in 1990.

What worsens this problem is that once they get here, they can't find jobs and often revert to cheating the system for free health care, welfare, etc. It's no big secret that many illegal aliens enter the U.S. knowing outright they can manipulate and ride the system for benefits such as health care and welfare — which often are better than in their countries.

If we continue to have an uncontrollable illegal alien flood, then we must refocus our legal alien numbers accordingly. If over 3 million illegal aliens enter this country annually, and we can't stop them, then we have to adjust the equation to allow for fewer legal immigrants. Then we have to fix the problem.

The final blow to the immigration problem was the recent episode with the Haitians infected with the HIV virus and AIDS. This group of more than 180 HIV and AIDS infected Haitians were being held at the U.S. Navy base in Cuba after being intercepted at sea bound for the U.S.

A federal judge in New York ruled they had to be released, although existing law, the Immigration Act of 1990, excludes aliens with "a communicable disease of public health significance." The law provides for exception in special and unusual circumstance, but I don't think that was meant to welcome illegal Haitian immigrants with AIDS to America. Unfortunately, the June 21, 1993 Supreme Court ruling that intercepting and returning Haitian refugees does not violate federal immigration law, will not apply in this case.

In the post-Cold War, we must take stock of the immigration situation. America has always been, and will always be, a country devoted to accepting the tired and poor. But, we can't be everyone's open arms. We must have an orderly and controlled process that protects America, too. Otherwise, we've neglected ourselves and Americans who are tired and poor.

ARTIN' ABOUT

Songy painting chosen
by Columbus Foundation

International environmental artist Songy painted the Nina when its replica was on display at The Maritime and Seafood Museum at Point Cadet, Biloxi. He portrayed the ship with its reflection mirrored in the still waters.

The painting and other works by Songy will be on display at the Crab Festival at Our Lady of the Gulf this weekend.

Dyed-in-the-Wool

The works of several local weavers will be on display at the Gulf States Traveling Fiber Show hosted June 30-July 25 at Serenity Gallery, 126 Main Street, Bay St. Louis.

The exhibit is a joint effort by five fiber guilds in Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana in celebration of the Year of the American Craft.

Dyed-in-the-Wool was honored for "Best Use of Color" in the show.

Works featured in the show are those by Denise Brown, Helen Currie Caire, Cynthia Crull, Lynn Doyle, Julia Kubat, Bernice Oxley and Cheryl Reynolds.

Camelot

Gulf Coast Opera will present Lerner & Loewe's musical Camelot July 9, 10 and 11 at the Saenger Theatre for the Performing Arts in Biloxi.

The production, which is a fund-raiser for GCO, will star two New York stage actors as Sir Lancelot and Queen Guenevere and Gulfport attorney Boyce Holleman as King Arthur. Isle of Capri Casino is sponsor of the event.

Robert Moody is director of the musical, which is the story of King Arthur's Knights of the Round Table and the love triangle of Arthur, Lancelot and Guenevere.

Performances will be at 8:15 Friday and Saturday, July 9-10 and at 2:30 on Sunday the 11th. Tickets are $15 for orchestra and loge seats and $10 for balcony. They may be purchased at the Isle of Capri Casino or Ticketmaster outlets.

Hillyer House, 207 E. Scenic, Pass Christian offers the following art events and demonstrations this month on Saturdays from 11-2:

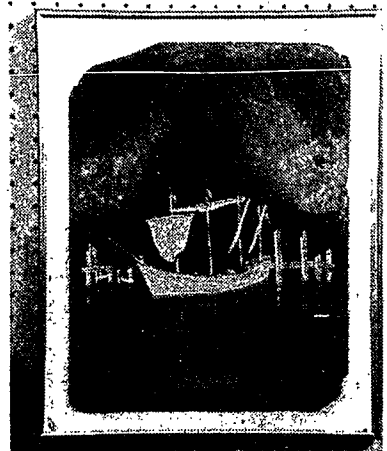

July 10—Artist David Had-dock of Florida—creating sand sculptures;

July 17—Connie Mickle of Florida—sculpting sea life with pottery;

July 24—Pat Bernstein and Barbara Wing—watercolors of Coastal scenery;

July 31—Nancie Roark of New Orleans—creating Dichro-ic glass jewelry.

Submissions to Artin' About should be sent to The Sea Coast Echo, P.O. Box 2009, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. Notices will be edited and published on a space-available basis.

"As the image is reflected on the waters of time The Nina in peaceful repose glimpses itself in presentation and culminates a date in time destination"

Time Destination

Artist Bob Songy's painting of the Columbus ship Nina may be produced as a fine art commemorative print through the Columbus Foundation.

The original mixed media rendition was executed on a 200-year-old slate. Negotiations are underway with CF director A. J. Sanger of the U.S. Virgin Islands to produce the print.

Sigma Xi elects officers, presents awards for '93

The Gulf Coast Chapter of Sigma Xi, the Scientific Research Society, recently presented its 1993 Science and Mathematics Teacher Awards during its annual banquet at Doug's Restaurant in Slidell, La. Receiving the 1993 Science and Mathematics Teacher Awards were Inez DeShields, Moss Point High School, and Cheryl Rock, Slidell High School.

The Kaminski Best Research Paper Award was given to Dr. Robert J. Esher of the Mississippi State Research Center, and Chi-Fu Cheng, an employee with Sverdrup Technology, received the Support to Research Award. Both work at the Stennis Space Center.

Also during the annual banquet, new officers for 1993-94 were installed, and past president Dr. Steven Lohrenz of the University of Southern Mississippi Center for Marine Sciences was honored.

The new officers, all of whom work at the Stennis Space Center, are Dr. Richard Gould of Sverdrup Technology, president; NASA's Dr. Gregory Carter, president-elect; Dr. Janice Boyd, Naval Research Laboratory, secretary; Patricia Simm, Naval Oceanographic Office, treasurer; and Dr. Roy Crochet, Mississippi State University Research Center, executive committee member.

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

By Margaret Williamson

Join in the festivities
Sunday under the oaks

HAPPY 4TH

The Diamondhead Youth Organization, along with the Diamondhead Community Association, is hosting a great celebration in honor of our nation's birthday Sunday, July 4 under the oaks at the Diamondhead Community Center.

The agenda includes a parade, assembling in the shopping center parking lot; face painting, bean bag toss, funny photos, games, clowns and balloon, swimming games and competition, putting contests, music, and just lots of fun for all ages.

Put on your red, white and blues and come on out and support these groups' efforts to have a wonderful July 4th.

We all need to stand undivided at this celebration. "Together we stand, divided we fall."

Church, Diamondhead Circle, announces the formation of ALANON (support group for persons living with alcoholism) and ACOA (Adult Children of Alcoholics) groups.

Meetings are held each Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at the church and are open to all of the community. Help and support are near.

THE SABBATH

If you are looking for a place to worship God and wish to be of service to others, are not currently active in a church (we have no interest in proselyting), the Diamondhead Community Church invites anyone to worship with them on Sunday morning at 10. Paul H. Richards, PhD is minister, and child care is provided.

The strength of the Bay Area Chorale is exemplified by its collective love for chorale expression of music. Pure and simple, the individual members of this fledgling organization volunteer their time and talents because of their love of singing and their desire to offer music to the Gulf Coast communities.

Friday's performance was another excellent rendition of songs from America's heartlands in honor of Independence Day 1993.

Under the superb direction of Joy Penny Mehrtens, who was able assisted by Phil Smith and accompanist Jim Ballard, the group especially enjoyed the opportunity to express their feelings for music and their American heritage.

The group hopes to repeat all or portions of this concert at an outdoor setting on or around Labor Day and to present a holiday performance late in the year.

Sincere appreciation to Curtis Stout for his genuine interest, dedication, offers of moral support, etc., to ensure the continued success of the group's endeavors in the future.

BAY DAY

Every Friday at 8:30 a.m. a bus picks up our senior ladies and gentlemen at the Diamondhead Dairy Queen and brings them to the Bay St. Louis Senior Citizens Center. They visit with friends, watch TV, read, do crafts and painting, and are served a nice hot lunch. They return to the Dairy Queen about 1:15 p.m., sometimes doing a little shopping on the way home. The ladies can make appointments to have their hair done, too. It's a great way to spend your Fridays, folks.

FROM WALTER HAGEN

"You are only here for a short visit. Don't hurry, don't worry, and be sure to smell the flowers along the way."

GREAT CHORUS

Our founding fathers had to be listening on Friday June 25 as the Bay Area Chorale sang their hearts out trying to drown out the pounding of the rain on Bay High's auditorium roof.

This was only the third time this chorus has performed, the first two were performances of Handel's Messiah back in March at the Diamondhead Community Center.

Diamondhead road use ok'd by Purcell Co., not POA

Paul Montjoy, general manager of the Diamondhead Property Owners Association, said a story in the Sunday, June 27, 1993, Sea Coast Echo gave the impression that current POA directors agreed to let developers of a major casino complex south of Diamondhead use Diamondhead roads during the construction phase.

"That is not the case," said Montjoy. He said the Purcell Co., which sold the property to Europa Cruises, also granted its rights of access to the property to Europa, which is developing the property through a subsidiary, Mississippi Gaming Corp.

He said Purcell reserved those rights of access when it transferred Diamondhead roads to the POA in 1984.

"The current board was not involved in any way in the transaction," he said. He said the current board will make every effort to minimize any adverse impact the casino might have on the residential development.

Last week Europa exercised a $4 million option with Purcell to purchase 404.5 acres of land south of Diamondhead to develop a casino complex that will include a marina, hotel and golf course, officials said.

Laura Moore takes National Bubba Conlee Jr. Championship

Laura Moore, 17, of Diamondhead recently won the Bubba Conlee National Junior Championships at the Farmington Country Club in Memphis.

The golf tournament was held June 21-24.

The Hancock High School senior placed second overall in a June 14-18 tournament, the Freeport McMoran Junior Tournament, at English Turn Golf and Country Club in New Orleans.

Moore's four-day rounds totaled 302. She placed second to Betty Chen of La Quinta, Calif., who shot a 298.

She will be competing in the Amateur Championship of the Women's Trans National Golf Association in Pittsburgh, Penn., July 12-17 at Shannopin Country Club.

Moore is the daughter of Jimmy and Cheryl Moore of Diamondhead.

Moore said she hopes to go to college on a golf scholarship.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire

Fresh melon julep
is refreshing treat for the 4th

The finale to the Fourth of July Feast follows traditional patterns, whether it's a backyard barbecue or an indoor feast in air-conditioned rooms, watermelon and ice cream are the most popular dessert enjoyed by young and old alike.

To quote the words of humorist Mark Twain, "When one has tasted watermelon, he knows what the angels eat. It was not a southern watermelon that Eve took; we know it because she repented."

Long a favorite, watermelon is believed to have been brought to America in the 1600's. First grown in the Southwest and along the Atlantic Seaboard, watermelon soon became a specialty of the South, where it grew largest and juiciest. It was an inexpensive summer treat for all, from rich to poor alike; and during the hard times of the 1930's, it gained the name of "Depression ham."

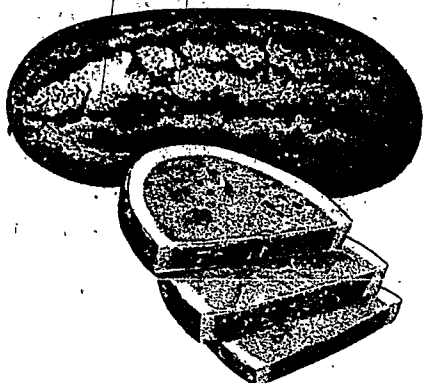

Watermelon, simply sliced and served "as is" is a wonderful treat; but just about every has variations on the theme. I have often cut a "plug" in a watermelon, poured in a little rum or bourbon, replaced the plug and chilled the melon for a couple of days before serving.

At times, I like to scoop out the melon, cutting the "insides" with handle, but I never seem to get it cut properly!

A friend of mine heaps sherbert into the shell ("store-bought" but delicious sherbert) and garnishes the whole with mint. And, a favorite with some of my friends is:

FRESH MELON JULEP

1 cup sugar
1 cup water
3/4 cup snipped fresh mint leaves
2 Tblsp. fresh lemon juice

1/4 cup dark rum
2 cups fresh honeydew melon cubes

2 canteloupes
2 cups fresh watermelon cubes or balls

Fresh mint sprigs

Combine the sugar and water with the mint leaves in a small saucepan. Stir over low heat until sugar dissolves; then simmer for 5 minutes. Remove from heat and put through a strainer, discarding the mint. Stir in the lemon juice and rum. Cool.

Halve the canteloupes and remove the seeds, then cut into balls or cubes and combine with the honeydew and watermelon and add the mint-rum syrup. Chill for several hours or overnight. To serve, spoon the fruit into dessert dishes and garnish with sprigs of mint. (8 servings).

At times I use only the watermelon balls, at other times whatever sort of melon I have on hand.

Chicken and pineapple—great grilled together!

CHICKEN LEGS CARIBBEAN

1/4 cup dark rum
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 tablespoon molasses
1/4 teaspoon red pepper sauce

4 chicken drumsticks
4 chicken thighs

Grilled Pineapple (below)

Mix all ingredients except chicken pieces and Grilled Pineapple; pour over chicken. Cover and refrigerate at last 1 hour.

Remove chicken; reserve marinade. Cover and grill chicken, bone sides down, 5 to 6 inches from medium coals, 15 to 20 minutes; turn chicken. Cover and grill, turning and brushing 2 or 3 times with reserved marinade, until chicken is done, 20 to 40 minutes longer. Serve with Grilled Pineapple.

GRILLED PINEAPPLE

1 medium-sized ripe pineapple

1/4 cup honey

Cut off top of pineapple. Cut pineapple lengthwise into 6 wedges; cut off pineapple core.

Loosen fruit by slicing from rind (do not remove rind). Drizzle honey over fruit; let stand 1 hour.

Grill pineapple, rind side down, 5 to 6 inches from medium coals until heated through, 20 to 25 minutes.

Meat, poultry doneness

Summer barbecues can bring out the best of juicy, tender meats and poultry. To cook them right, use a combination of techniques:

—Grill in a well-ventilated area with either a charcoal or gas grill.

—Heat grill before adding meat or poultry.

Do not leave fire unattended

Now for doneness, the key to your eating enjoyment. Most people have their own ideas about when meat is done. However, there are some safety standards to keep in mind:

—Follow recipe guidelines for cooking times and for internal temperatures, where applicable.

—When using a meat thermometer, insert it so that the tip rests in the center of the thickest part of meat away from either bone or fat.

—For turkey, place thermometer in the thickest part of the thigh.

—Press meat lightly with protected fingers. If juices run red, the food is not sufficiently cooked. Beef or lamb juices run pink when meat is rare to medium rare. Pork is tender and cooked when juices run clear.

—Chicken, turkey or other poultry is done when juices run clear, the leg meat feels very soft between protected fingers and the leg of a whole bird moves easily.

Fish flakes easily with a fork when it's done. Gently twist a fork at an angle into the thickest part of the fish.

Free seminar offered on meat nutrition, selection

American consumers are increasingly concerned with the healthfulness of their diet. The amount of fat in the diet is of particular concern.

Meat products of today are tailored more to consumer preferences for lean meats; but leanness is only one criterion a health conscious consumer uses when making a meat purchase decision. Safety and wholesomeness of food is another important consideration.

In response to consumer demand, the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), Cooperative Extension Service, and the National Livestock and Meat Board, has produced Lean Meat: The Consumer's Choice.

This is an in-depth course on meat production, nutritional value and selection. Classes will be conducted on Wednesdays, 9:30-11:30 a.m., July 7, 14, 21 and 28. All classes will be held in the meeting room of the Human Services Building, Longfellow Drive, Bay St. Louis. There is no charge.

Registration is suggested due to limited space. Call 467-5456.

Child caregivers can receive eight hours credit toward their in-service training requirements.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all. The biggest, most spectacular, fishin' rodeo anywhere in the fishin' world is scheduled to take place right here on the Mississippi Gulf Coast this weekend. The 45th annual Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo is set to run between July 2 and July 5. This rodeo has been a major happening since 1947 on the Coast.

There are some things you need to know if you want to enter the fishing rodeo. First it will not cost you anything. That's right. It will not cost you one red cent to enter the rodeo and be eligible for the thousands of dollars in prizes. Boy, what prizes.

A special $15,000 cash award will be given to any fisherman who breaks the state record for King Mackerel and Lemon Fish. I wonder what you get for record Pineapple fish?

Anyway, there will be an award of $500 for any fisherman who breaks the shark record. A $500 savings bond will be given to any fisherman breaking any other existing rodeo record in either fresh and salt water categories.

Other prizes to be awarded, in the form of top rodeo honors, will be for the King Fisherman, Queen Fisherette, King Fresh Water Fisherman, Queen Fresh Water Fisherette, King Neptune, Arthur Van Pelt Memorial Trophy and Sportman's Trophy.

King Fisherman and Queen Fisherette will be selected by points entered daily for first, second and third place winners in all categories except gar and catfish. This means that even if you don't catch the biggest fish you still have a chance to win top honors.

One last thing about prizes. There are daily prizes given out in addition to the grand prize. This means you can get some goodies daily. Not bad, huh?

The headquarters for the rodeo is the Rice Pavilion in Gulfport. This is located just off of Hwy. 90 by the Gulfport ship harbor. You can't miss the place 'cause of all the cars that will be there just to enjoy the food, fun and entertainment. Yes, there will be daily entertainment and big bunches of food.

You can get to see all of the fish entered into the rodeo right on display.

Most importantly, you get to see and meet the Rodeo Queen, Miss Monica Lyn Maillho, who is from Diamondhead, right here in Hancock County I always knew that the prettiest and most talented girls lived in Hancock County.

The rodeo is a non-profit civic organization, and this year they received major donations from the casinos of the Gulf Coast to have the biggest, most spectacular fireworks show ever seen on the 4th of July on the Coast.

I am told that it will make all other fireworks demonstrations look tame by comparison. I know that this has little to do with fishin' but the turtle is still a kid at heart when it comes to fireworks.

The other goings on this past week can be summed up in one word — trout, trout, trout. The specks are all over the place out in the surf. The secret seems to be that you gotta' fish in at least three and one-half feet of water.

Most fishermen report that they are able to catch an average of about 15 trout per trip. The best bait seems to be live shrimp or small live pogie under a popping cork. The second best bait is the green beetle under a popping cork. The best depth for the bait under the cork is about 18 inches.

Softball tourney set for July 3 in Picayune

"Big Easy Bash" softball tournament is planned for Sunday, July 3, at Friendship Park in Picayune. There is a $90 entry fee, and T-shirts for first place winner and trophies for first through third place winners. Teams interested in entering should contact Brent Stillmann, 790-1839, or Anthony McDuffie, 798-7109.

Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo begins Friday

One thing that I did notice this past week about the trout in the surf. They are biting funny. By that I mean they seem to want to take the cork under real slow like instead of striking setting the hook.

Uneda Laitinen reports that the white trout are biting big time plenty in the channel out in Bay St. Louis right off Cedar Point.

top of where the other person is casting to drop their 500-pound anchor. I guess courtesy is out of the question these days. More on this another time.

This week's wonderful wise words: Don't forget to get your new fishin' licenses this week.

I'm gonna' find a rodeo for giant blue fin tuna sharks yet, Turtle.

hard. When they take the cork under slow your best bet is to just start reeling in your line, fast like, instead of striking hard to set the hook.

If you try to rear back on your rod to set the hook, you will find that you will jerk the hook out of the mouth of the trout instead of

There seems to be a problem in this area that needs to be addressed. It seems that there are some "fisher-slobs" that abound in this area. These are the people who see someone else catching fish and race over to that spot with their 2,000hp party boat, creating a 20-foot tidal wave. They stop right on

Waveland resident claims NSSC badminton silver

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
Charles Kerr, 31, returned from Baton Rouge, La. recently with more than a second place victory in the U.S. National Senior Sports Classic (NSSC) badminton competition.

The Baton Rouge Advocate newspaper reported not only of Kerr's athletic skills but of his indomitable spirit.

Kerr lost his right leg as an eight-year-old boy when he slipped while walking a New Orleans railroad track and fell into the path of an oncoming freight train.

"I was in the hospital four days," Kerr nonchalantly recalled.

Being an amputee has never been a problem for Kerr. Just don't make the mistake of classifying him as disabled.

Kerr has spent his life educating the world, as well as other amputees, on the difference between losing a limb and being disabled.

In addition to his extensive work history in rehabilitation with amputees, he has remained athletically competitive.

As a business administration student at Tulane he was a cheerleader and was undefeated in both boxing and fencing.

He was a member of the United States 1949 Thomas Cup (badminton) team, defeating the number three contender from India.

Kerr said years later at another badminton competition, the coach for India's female badminton team came over to him and informed him of his national fame as "the wooden leg who defeated Henry."

Kerr has written medical manuals for the U.S. government on lower extremity training and served as a consultant in the U.S. Public Health Service.

"All life is interesting," Kerr commented, "if you are willing to interact with it."

"When I participate in sports I figure others look at me and say, 'Maybe I can do that.'"

Parading in Clermont

Annual Fourth of July celebration planned in Clermont Harbor Saturday

Jimmy Ray Thornton and Abbie West IV will continue the tradition their grandparents have celebrated as grand marshals of the annual Fourth of July parade in Clermont Harbor Saturday.

Thornton's grandfather Ray Harold "Chief" Garcia reigned as grand marshal in 1983, while his father, Jimmy Thornton, was grand marshal in 1985. West's grandfather, Abbie West, was one of the founders of the organization, which began in 1980 as the Old Forrest Marching Club.

A group of men from New Orleans/Algiers first paraded 13 years ago through the streets of Clermont Harbor. A resident referred to the parade as "the biggest thing in the community since Hurricane Camille."

This year's festivity will begin at the home of Joe Levy on Poinsett Street, proceed to Guidar Street to the railroad tracks, from Bordages to 2nd and 2nd to Clermont Boulevard, back to the railroad tracks to Forrest and will disband between Harold and Lillian's and the home of Abe "Snake" Wakefield Jr.

Anyone may parade—whether they walk, ride bicycles, drive trucks etc. Approximately eight food and refreshment stops are planned along the parade route.

The Dixieland Saints will be featured in this year's festivity. For additional information, call Levy at 467-3632.

First Baptist plans July 4th programs

Special to the Echo
First Baptist Church of Bay St. Louis is sponsoring a special Fourth of July program featuring Keith Carpenter, a layman 'chalk-talk' artist, and his daughter, Kerrie, a ventriloquist.

Carpenter's unique ultra violet light drawings are accompanied by an arrangement of Christian hymns, Bible verses and narration, presented in a dramatic fashion.

He has performed his chalk art nearly 400 times in the past five years, appearing at churches, civic clubs, camps, banquets and conventions.

Carpenter is an advertising manager for a Tupelo light fixture company and is a deacon and Sunday School teacher at Trinity Baptist Church in Fulton. His daughter, Kerrie, has joined the program with a ventriloquist comedy act, based on Christian principles which is popular with children and young people.

Special programs will be presented at 8:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. with the evening July 4 program featuring Carpenter's famous patriotic work, bursting with colors, based on "God and America."

First Baptist Church is located at 141 Main Street in Old Town area of Bay St. Louis.

For further information call 467-4005. The public is invited to attend. Admission is free.

Field day draws ham radio operators

The St. Stanislaus High School Amateur Radio Club participated in field day Saturday and Sunday, June 26 and 27.

Field day is an annual amateur radio contest, sponsored by the American Radio Relay

League. Its purpose is "to work as many stations as possible, and in doing so to learn to operate under abnormal situations under less-than-optimum conditions."

A temporary vertical antenna was erected on the property behind the tennis courts. The radio transceiver was operated in a pop-up camper using power from a gasoline generator. The club made hundreds of contacts with other field day stations in many states and foreign countries.

Cook, Williamson address students

Local attorneys presented two programs to Bay High School students during National Law Week.

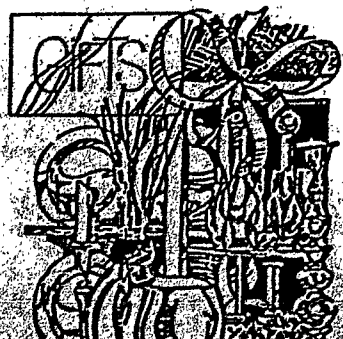

Attorney Henry Cook III spoke to the seventh and eighth grade classes about the Constitution and how the document promotes justice.

The ninth through 12th grade students were presented a program by Judge Ann Arras Williamson. Her talk focused on "Our Legal Duties" and the functions of the local Youth Court.

Bay High students also participated in a mock trial of the Tinker case. Students acted out the roles of defense attorney, prosecuting attorney, witnesses, plaintiffs, etc. Judge Joe Dobson presided over the trial.

Crab Fest '93

Ninth annual fair offers family fun and entertainment

BY LIZ HAAS

The Our Lady of the Gulf Church "Family-A-Fair" Crab Festival will be held on the beachfront under the oaks next to Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in downtown Bay St. Louis July 2, 3 and 4.

"We hope everyone will come out and support us," said Father Peter Mockler, OLG pastor.

He said, "Generally there are thousands of people at the festival and we hope to see as many this year."

The grounds open at 11 a.m. daily.

In addition to live entertainment all weekend long, main attractions consist of handmade arts and crafts, flea market, foods of all kinds, games for all ages and a fireworks display.

Fair chairmen are Bill and Kathleen LeBlanc.

Bill LeBlanc said, "We bill this as a 'family-a-fair,' so we try to stay away from the big rides and stick to a more old-fashioned theme."

"The primary things we offer to the public are free live entertainment, unique home cooking and the arts and crafts," he said.

The festival will feature 100 select arts and crafts booths with all hand-crafted items.

Food booths include boiled seafood, fried seafood, crab specialties, Cajun, barbecue, oriental, hamburgers/hot dogs, cotton candy, desserts, cakes, ice cream, snowballs, popcorn and drinks.

"Big John" Rutherford and his crew will be on hand serving their regular batch of fried seafood.

Activities include kiddie land, throwing games, crab races, white elephant, face painting, space walk, plant/flowers, sling shot/slap happy, first aide makeup, t-shirts, caps, aprons, and balloons.

"The funds raised are used for church and school programs and for capital improvements," said

Mockler.

He said, "It takes hundreds of people working together to make it a success and we are blessed with people who enjoy the heat, the rain, the mud, and do it all for the love of fun and love of their church."

The Crab Fest Twilight Bridge 5-K and one-mile health run/walk, sponsored by the Gulf Coast Running Club, will be held 6 p.m. for the one-mile and 6:30 p.m. for the 5-K on Sunday.

Entrants will receive t-shirts and there will be awards to winners in different categories.

For more information on the Fun Run, contact Arthur Geary at 467-8085, Mark Koch at 467-7786 or Leonard Vergunst at 875-6855.

"This is not just a church fair anymore—it's a community fair, because we have volunteer workers from all over the community, not just in our parish," said LeBlanc.

A $15,000 draw-down will be held Saturday at 9 p.m. Three hundred tickets are sold, $100 per ticket, and the first name drawn wins $5,000 and $10,000 goes to the last name drawn.

Sweetest man in town

Monti serves cotton candy to second generation

BY LIZ HAAS

Gene Monti, 75, has whipped up cotton candy for the past 35 years for the Our Lady of the Gulf Church Fair/Crab Festival. Children whose parents grew up enjoying the sticky sweet treat now form the line in front of Monti's popular booth.

"Many people have come up and said 'Uncle Gene, (that's what they all call me) you used to make cotton candy for me and now you're making it for my kid,'" he said.

But it's not just the cotton candy that keeps the lines so long—it's the man behind them. "Uncle Gene" serves it up with a smile and a warm heart and makes extra special big ones for the young ones.

"When my oldest daughter Barbara Jean (LaCour) was desperately sick as a child, I made a promise that if she recovered I would make cotton candy for as long as I was able to and donate a mullet net each year to the church to raffle," said Monti.

The Bay St. Louis native has faithfully kept that promise since 1958. Monti recalls the first time he ever made cotton candy was at a fair on the back school grounds (former SSC school house on Booker Street).

"It's special when you see the smaller kids come up with this expression on their faces—to everyone else it's just cotton candy," he said.

Once he steps foot in front of the cotton candy machine, he doesn't leave.

"People bring me water, coke and food because it gets so busy sometimes, I just can't leave," he said.

Monti says he puts in 10-14 hours a day at the fair.

"It was at least 15 years ago," he recalled, "at a fair on the beach by the highway and the wind had blown the candy all over me, it covered my hair and my body."

"Someone came up to me and said something about it so I responded 'Don't you know I'm the sweetest man in town, and that's been what I've been called ever since,'" he said.

"And he really looked like a cotton candy, too, with it all over him like that," said his wife, Mary Alice Monti, who has worked in the fair's white elephant booth for the past 11 years.

Monti said he now makes cotton candy only for the church fair and food festival, hosted by Our Lady Academy.

"We used to rent the machine until the church bought one, then all neighboring fairs wanted to use ours," said Monti.

He said the pastor would only lend the machine if Gene went and made the cotton candy.

"I used to make it for fairs in Kiln, Delisle, Dedeaux, Gulfport, Waveland, all over," he said.

Monti said for a three-day fair such as the Crab Fest, he uses 200 pounds of sugar for good, dry weather and 300 pounds for damp weather.

"I usually make $600 to $800 dollars per fair," he said.

The cones, now selling for 50 cents, started at 10 cents.

"I've never gone over 50 cents because it is really something for the children," he said.

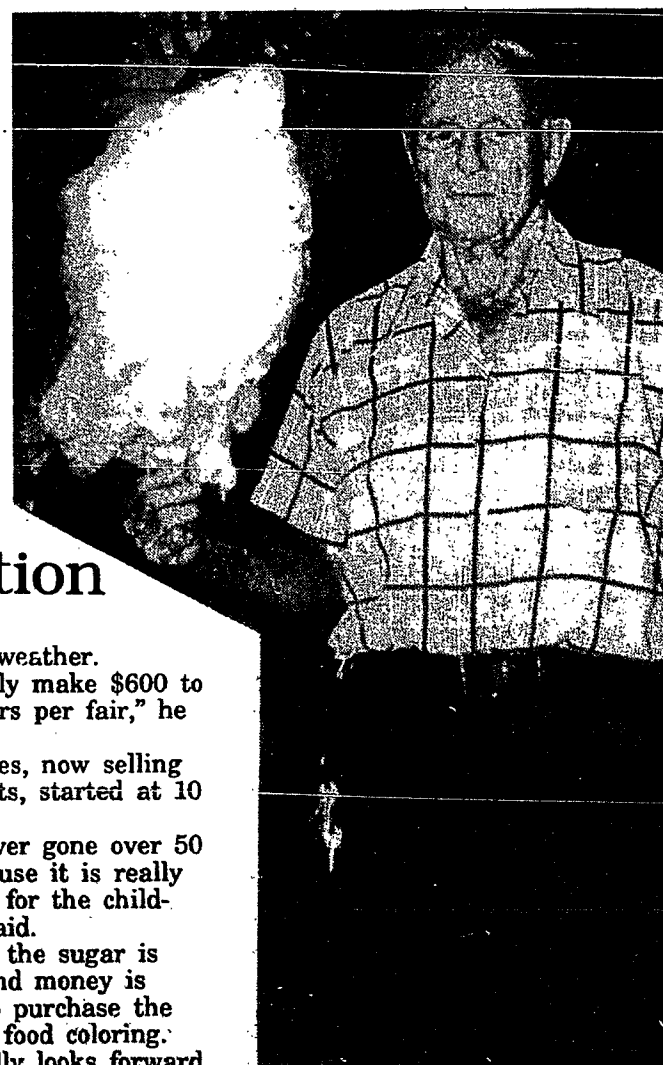

He said the sugar is donated and money is donated to purchase the cones and food coloring.

"He really looks forward to the fair and won't give it up," his wife said.

Barbara Jean, who now lives in Destrehan, La., comes to the fair every year.

The Montis have two daughters.

Hancock school system names six teachers of the year

One teacher was selected to represent each school in the Hancock County School District as Teacher of the Year based on respect and admiration of students, parents and co-workers, school and community service and leadership qualities.

C. B. MURPHY
Representing Charles B. Murphy Elementary is Betty Ramsey Foster.

Betty Foster

Foster earned a BS in elementary education at the University of Southern Mississippi. She teaches kindergarten and is a member of the International Reading Association, Kappa Delta Pi Honor Society, Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society and the Bay St. Louis-Waveland Rotary.

Foster received the Junior College Achievement Award, was on the USM president's list and was named teacher of the month.

GULFVIEW

Teacher of the Year representing Gulfview Elementary is Chris Austin.

Chris Austin

Austin earned a bachelor of science in elementary education at the University of Southern Mississippi. He has taught fifth grade at Gulfview for 18 years.

Austin is a member of the Mississippi American Federation of Teachers and the Mississippi Science Teachers Association. In 1980 he received the president's award for leadership and dedication from the Parent Teacher Club, and October 1992 he was selected teacher of the month.

He is active at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church where he serves as eucharistic minister, sixth grade CCD teacher, OCIA sponsor, and participates in summer youth missionary work in Saltillo, Mexico.

Austin was block captain for the Neighborhood Watch program and is a member of the Knights of Columbus. He is Junior Beta Club sponsor, Science Fair chairman and Academic Competition for Excellence sponsor.

HANCOCK ELEMENTARY
Representing Hancock North Central Elementary is Myrdesia M. Ladner. Ladner has been teaching for 42 years, beginning her career at Kilm High School.

Myrdesia Ladner

She is a member of the Mississippi Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers.

Ladner has been named Who's Who Among American Elementary Teachers and was selected teacher of the month. She is a member of the Altar Society and has taught religious education at St. Matthew Catholic Church.

Her extra-curricular activities include being a member of the PTO, textbook committee and yearbook sponsor.

HANCOCK JUNIOR HIGH

Teaching children money management skills

By Janet K. Lukens
Area Consumer Money
Management Specialist

Last week a parent asked me to spend some time working with her child on money management. Other clients have brought older children with them to appointments for the purpose of teaching money management techniques.

Most parents concerned about their child's financial management skills recognize that our school system falls somewhat short in this area. And even when children are taught financial management in school, good habits must be reinforced at home.

So when should parents begin educating children about money? It depends upon the maturity of each child, but there are some general tips which can help in deciding when a child is ready to handle various financial responsibilities.

At ages three to five, begin talking about money, particularly during shopping trips for groceries or gifts. Discuss with the child how you make choices. Occasionally, give them 50 cents to $1 and have them decide among several possible purchases.

At six to seven years old, about the time the child starts school, begin a regular allowance. Payments of allowances should not be dependent upon behavior, doing household monetary value on character and achievement.

Likewise, discipline problems are best handled with no relationship to money.

Allowances should have no strings attached. They should be an inherit right of each family and range from $1 to $5 per week.

Begin allowing the child to earn extra money by doing addition-

From age eight on, annual raises should be given at some anniversary date each year. At the time the allowance is increased, the child's financial responsibilities should increase.

Choose additional types of purchases for which the child can take responsibility. An appropriate allowance for this

Chores should be assigned as a part of the child's family responsibility. The parent should discuss with the child how the allowance can be spent and it should be given on a regular schedule without fail. Start the allowance low, about $1 a

If the family budget allows, match any money your child saves in order to encourage the savings habit. The basic allowance portion of the child's money should range from $5 to $10.

From 15 to 18, help the child open a checking account with an ATM card. Teach him or her to reconcile the bank statement. An after-school job can teach additional money responsibility.

By now the child has probably used a parent's credit card. Use these opportunities to teach decision-making skills and wise use of credit. The allowance, excluding outside earnings, should range from $10 to $25 per week.

Tate completes optometry degree

Trent J. Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Tate III of Bay St. Louis was graduated from the University of Alabama at Birmingham School of Optometry June 6.

Dr. Tate is a 1985 graduate of St. Stanislaus High School and a 1989 graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi where he received a bachelor of science degree in biology.

He was president of the National Optometric Student Association from 1991-1992 and treasurer from 1990-1991. He was a member of the dean's list for the majority of his optometry school tenure. He was also voted the UAB Intramural Basketball Official of the Year in 1992.

Tate has been commissioned in the United States Air Force at the rank of 1st Lieutenant. Upon entering active duty on July 27, while attending Medical Service Officers (MIMSO), he will be promoted to Captain.

He will be stationed at Seymour-Johnson Air Force Base in Goldsboro, N.C. for the next three years, where he will be responsible for providing comprehensive eye care for base personnel and retirees.

asked what he thinks about being called the sweetest man in town, Monti replies, "It doesn't bother me as long as my wife doesn't complain."

She says, "I already know that. They're just telling the truth."

Monti handcrafts the mullet nets he donates to the church to be raffled. He says he works on the mullet nets in his spare time, and always keeps one year ahead.

He also assists his wife with the white elephant booth—picking up items, setting up at the festival grounds and cleaning each night at closing.

"That's when they call us 'Sanford & Son' when they see me and Mary Alice coming," he said.

"Last year, some police officers tried to close my operation because it was getting late and they wanted the kids off the streets. But I had kids that had been waiting in line so long, I couldn't turn them away," he said.

"I asked the officer to let me just serve it until the sugar ran out," he said.

And so it goes with the sweetest man in town.

Coast Episcopal holds end-of-year ceremonies

Coast Episcopal Elementary School held end-of-the-year ceremonies Thursday, May 27, at Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis.

Following an invocation by the school's founder, the Rev. Charles R. Johnson, principal Betsy Grant welcomed students and their families and friends.

Representing American Legion Post 139, John Rutherford presented the 1993 American Legion awards to Eleanore Bernadas and Scott Wallace.

Receiving the 1993 Principal's awards were Lauren Southern, Ellie Tor and Chris Dauterive. Perfect Attendance awards for the 1992-93 school year went to sixth grader Terry Fulford and third grader Wesley Debenport.

To show their appreciation to the school, members of the sixth grade graduating class presented a check to Mrs. Grant to be used toward the school's computer program.

Diplomas were awarded to Justin Colin Allen, Eleanore Clare Bernadas, Ryan Joseph Bozant, Daniel Jon Caridad, Brian Garard Cowand, Norman Lyle Cowand.

Chevonne Elizabeth Daigre, Christopher Brannan Dauterive, Matthew Bishop Frost, Terry Colleen Fulford, Sarah Elizabeth Golmon, Joseph Robert Groves, Joseph Theodore Kuhner.

John Farwell Levert, Lauren Kristen Southern, Lauren Marriel Stonecipher, Eleanor Williams Tor, Randolph Scott Wallace, Michael Allen Wasson, Thomas Gary Whitman and Olivia Jane Willis.

Report cards were presented to the students by their teachers Gloria VanderNoot, kindergarten; Lisa Williams, first grade; Christine Ladner, second grade; Suzy Gachassin, third grade; Kathleen Jenkins, fourth grade, and Merry Montjoy, fifth grade.

Following the ceremonies, a reception was held for the students and their guests on the lawn of the church.

Three participate in writing project

Janet Fiveash and Elana Moore, teachers at North Bay Elementary, and Hancock High teacher Frances Weiler have been chosen to participate in the South Mississippi Writing Project June 14-July 15 at the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg. The South Mississippi Writing Project brings together teachers from across southern Mississippi to develop implementation strategies for writing in all subject areas in the curriculum, kindergarten through college level. They join 19 teachers from across the state in an intensive 20-day workshop to explore personal writing in various modes, to identify successful approaches to the teaching of writing, and to investigate important research in composition. At the conclusion of the summer, each teacher will take models and strategies back to the classroom for implementation.

Educators interested in attending the South Mississippi Writing Project's 1994 Summer Institute at USM may telephone the director, Jeanne Ezell at 266-5066 or write to her at Southern Station Box 10021, Hattiesburg, MS 39406-0021.

Students in Pearl River Community College's six-county district can get their college registration out of the way during new student orientation and early registration at Pearl River

Monday, July 12 through Friday, July 16 on the Poplarville campus.

New students living in Jefferson Davis, Hancock and Marion counties will register Thursday, July 15.

Friday, July 16 is an open date for students who could not attend on their specific date and students living out-of-state.

Members of the following groups will register Monday, July 12: valedictorians/salutatorians, band, String of Pearls, cheerleaders, baseball, football and basketball (men and women).

Cost of orientation/early registration is $15 per student and $3 per parent. This fee includes lunch. Tuition and other college fees may be paid during orientation or may be paid in the fall.

Represents Bay at Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo

Janelle D. Bufkin, daughter of John and Carmel Bufkin of Bay St. Louis, will represent the city at the annual Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo Pageant in Gulfport. A 1991 graduate of Bay High School, Bufkin attended Pearl River Community College for two years and will be a student at the University of Southern Mississippi this fall. She will major in special education. Bufkin is the granddaughter of Faye Bufkin and Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Ladner, all of Bay St. Louis.

HONORS LISTS

University of Mississippi

Richard Vaughn Johnson Jr. of Pass Christian was named to the University of Mississippi dean's honor roll for the spring semester. A grade point average from 3.5 to 3.75 is required of full-time students carrying at least 12 semester hours for listing on the dean's honor roll.

Miss. University for Women

Members of the dean's list for the spring 1993 semester at Mississippi University for Women have been announced. To qualify for the dean's list, a student must maintain a 3.5 to 3.99 quality point average and be full-time. Included is Kristy Heitzmann of Bay St. Louis.

Rust College

One local student was among 421 named to several honor lists for the spring semester at Rust College in Holly Springs. Named to the dean's list was Edmore Green III. Green, an honors track student, is a business administration major with a concentration in computer science. A senior, he carries a 3.62 cumulative average.

Millsaps College

Millsaps College students who were named to the Dean's List for the 1993 spring semester include Samuel Trent Favre of Bay St. Louis, Anna Linwood Burdette of Pass Christian, Deedra Beth Foxworth of Pearlman and Susan Michelle Dean of Wiggins.

Host families needed for foreign students

Caprico Erwin from Indonesia and Marieke Nesselar from The Netherlands are two of several exchange students hoping to spend their 1993-94 academic year in the Bay St. Louis area. Earlier this year they were accepted to a program offered by EF Educational Foundation for Foreign Study, (EF Foundation), a non-profit student exchange organization.

Since then, they have been awaiting news of a host family who would like to host them while they attend the local high school.

Dan Callahan, local volunteer International Exchange Coordinator for EF Foundation, needs to find families for these students as soon as possible. Host families come from all backgrounds and walks of life.

Host families provide students with a bed, meals and a loving environment. EF Foundation students have a working knowledge of English, are fully insured, and provide their own spending money.

If you are interested in hosting Caprico, Marieke, or one of the other students coming to the Bay St. Louis area, contact Dan Callahan at 452-5444 or call 1-800-44-SHARE.
